

Jeremy Womac Bio

Jeremy Womac is a film producer and vice president of Emerald Elephant Entertainment LLC. He has over ten years experience in film and theatre and has produced two feature films. The comedy Trade In stars Corey Haim, Ron Jeremy, and horror star Tiffany Shepis and is distributed by Synkronized. He is producer of the feature Short Cuts and co-produced 13th Hour. Additionally, he has produced several short films and music videos. With Us won 3rd Place in the IFASA Three-Minute Thriller Contest. The Year of Acceleration music video was an official selection at the Peoria (AZ) Film Festival. He has also assistant directed several films, including six festival selections, and was second assistant director of the feature The Frankenstein Syndrome, which is being sold worldwide by American World Pictures.

Jeremy has also acted in several films and countless stage productions. He is a graduate of the American Academy of Dramatic Arts. He was the assistant art director on the feature film Red 71, which has had a limited theatrical run, including the premiere in New York City, and is distributed worldwide by Synkronized.